SUMMARY

I am graduated from Asia Pacific University of Science and Technology. I am very passionate on game development and enjoy the process of game development. I enjoy the sense of achievement of realizing ideas in games. My strengths are using Unity, C# and Blender. I am a team player, leader and fast learner. I willing to accept other's opinion or giving others my suggestion. Always reflect why and how the things work to make me think and learn more from it. Currently seeking to learn more in-depth knowledge of game development.
